

Condominium Association Insurance

Protect your community, your residents and your bottom line.

Rising costs and shrinking coverage options demand a better strategy.

The insurance landscape for condominium associations has shifted dramatically. Premiums have surged in recent years, deductibles have climbed from five figures into six, and carriers continue to exit the market in high-risk states. At the same time, aging building infrastructure, climate-driven catastrophic events and new structural safety legislation are compounding the pressure on boards, community association managers (CAMs) and property management companies to secure adequate coverage at a sustainable cost.

HUB's Real Estate specialists provide insurance solutions for condominium associations and their management companies across the country, building programs that align your master policy with your governing documents, your reserve strategy and your budget.

Coverage designed for the condominium association industry.

HUB works with community associations of all sizes and types. Our condominium insurance specialists understand the regulatory requirements, operational risks and financial pressures that differ across property types. We serve:

- Residential condo associations and cooperatives
- Mixed-use condo associations combining residential, retail and commercial space
- Senior living and 55+ communities
- Resort and vacation condominium communities
- Large-scale planned communities with multiple associations
- Property management companies overseeing condominium portfolios

Condominium association insurance helps provide coverage for many of the risks boards face, including:

- Water damage and plumbing failures
- Aging building infrastructure and deferred maintenance
- Climate-driven catastrophic events including hurricanes, flooding and wildfires
- Structural safety legislation and reserve funding mandates
- Carrier withdrawals, non-renewals and escalating deductibles
- Cyber and data security exposures from digital property management platforms
- Slip-and-fall and workplace injury liability in common areas
