AmTrust INSURANCE

AmTrust Financial Services Is Expanding Its Offerings to Include Excess Self-Insured Workers' Compensation Coverage

Our Promise, Our Approach

The team at AmTrust wants to listen to your needs and the needs of your clients to understand what is desired for structure and coverage – then we work to fulfill those needs with our quotes and services.

Excess Self-Insured Workers' Compensation:

Classes of business: All self-insured classes except the following:

- Risks solely engaged in production of energy through nuclear means
- Risks solely engaged in Federal Acts wet exposures (Maritime, Jones, Outer Continental, etc.)

Retentions/SIR/Premium:

- Starting at $250,000, but will consider lower
- No minimum premiums – each risk is priced based on attachment and exposures.

Coverage:

- Specific, Specific and Aggregate, Aggregate only (MN), or Facultative Certificate policies available
- Policy includes: SCD, Stop Gap, and Broad Form All States, Voluntary Comp, Foreign Voluntary Comp, Unintentional E&O, and Right to Recover from Others
- One- or two-year policies offered with installments or annual pay
- Commission: per your request
- Broker billed or direct bill for net of commission risk: per your request.
- Issuance: all electronic, but via paper upon request.
- All polices, all coverage on a rate per $100 of payroll for simple audits
- Policies to be written on Wesco Insurance paper

Audits:

- Audits are calculated on a rate per $100 of total payroll rather than by individual class code allocation. In certain instances, the insured may be asked to provide IRS Form 941 as supporting documentation to verify reported payroll.

Submissions:

- Accepting any broker or competitor application
- Electronic: 7-10 years of ground up loss information
- Electronic: 7-10 years of payroll history
- Description of large open and closed losses ($100,000 and over for 7-10 years)
- Employee Concentration data
- Details of cost mitigation strategies

Third Party Administrators:

- Apply to serve as a Claims Third Party Administrator with AmTrust's Excess Workers' Compensation program. Follow the link below to complete the application. www.amtrustfinancial.com/wc-tpa
