Insure equipment to ensure care

Get Equipment Breakdown coverage and operate with confidence

Healthcare entities must maintain the highest standards of patient care, while increasing energy efficiency and reducing costs, all in a fast-paced environment with stringent regulations. That balance requires a deep understanding of equipment breakdown exposures and coverage that performs under pressure.

Today's medical technology — from diagnostics to computerized records to operating equipment — can be especially vulnerable to line disturbances, which cause 58% of claims reported to HSB from among the 165,000-plus healthcare locations we insure. When equipment is in critical condition, Equipment Breakdown coverage allows a speedy recovery so that your team can keep being heroic.

Lessons of loss and recovery

See how HSB Equipment Breakdown coverage has helped so many healthcare entities

A network server at a medical imaging center was damaged by a surge. The scheduling and billing system for five locations was down for two weeks. The insured lost MRI business as well as data that had to be restored. HSB paid $17,500 for property damage, $14,000 for business income, and $21,000 for extra expense.

Increased load on an electrical system caused electrical meters to arc, leaving a physician's office without power. HSB paid $52,000 for property damage and $22,000 for lost business income.

The rotating cylinder door assembly of a hospital's 400-pound commercial washing machine opened during the extract cycle, damaging the basket and inner and outer shells. HSB paid $61,475 for property damage.

Electrical arcing in a medical center's cardiac catheterization machine caused damage to a high voltage cable and other electrical apparatus. HSB paid $40,995 for property damage.
