Lessons of loss and recovery

See how HSB Equipment Breakdown can and has helped so many hotels and motels.

A hotel could not process online reservations for more than a week due to a power surge that damaged equipment at its contracted data center, leading to reduced occupancy. HSB paid the business income loss.

An underground electrical cable failure led to a midnight evacuation followed by relocation or reimbursement for guests. HSB paid $531,000.

When the hot water left, so did many guests. Those who stayed requested lower rates. HSB paid $23,000.

A motel had to close for 10 days because of a boiler breakdown. Upon completion of repairs, the motel ran a media campaign to promote its reopening. HSB paid the boiler repair costs, business income loss, and media campaign costs.

An ice storm caused a total power outage. As the electricity came back on, line disturbance damaged equipment. HSB paid $74,500.

A leased refrigerated storage trailer broke down and the hotel restaurant's food inside spoiled. The leasing company covered the trailer, but not the perishable goods. HSB paid $19,000 to fill the gap.
