Case study: Mindbody fitness program

- Mindbody is the largest fitness software company in the U.S, serving as the operating system for over 40,000 gyms.
- They identified an opportunity to offer insurance as a tailored service to their gym partners. To make this possible, they needed a turnkey solution they could deploy efficiently.
- Authentic provided the solution, building and launching a custom fitness insurance program in days.

Mindbody improved customer retention, increased their per user revenue, and continues to help their users save an average of 39% on their policies.

The only end-to-end insurance program management solution
